

TUT student in the dock for stabbing classmate

* The case of a student at Tshwane University of Technology accused of stabbing Sabelo Mbele, his classmate, at the Soshanguve North campus has been postponed to 17 September for further investigation. This was decided during the accused first appearance at Soshanguve Magistrate's Court, where a group of students affiliated to the DA Student Organisation called for the state to deny him bail.