

Surviving Driefontein miners in stable condition

* One of the six employees who was hospitalised after sustaining injuries in a seismic-related incident at Sibanye-Stillwater's Driefontein mine earlier this month, has been discharged and is in good health. Sibanye reported that the other five rescued employees remain in a stable condition and are making good progress.